

News and Views

3/17/25

Issue # 10 - “Ya’ll Come back”

I spent two years as a missionary for my church in Oklahoma and Missouri, and enjoyed meeting many fine people. But it always amused me when someone said, very firmly, “I’m not interested” and started to close the door. Their parting comment, by force of habit, was usually “Ya’ll Come back””

Well, the “Ya’ll come back” for many recently fired government employees is underway.

In the News

A sham': Federal judge blasts Trump admin on improper firings of federal workers; orders rehiring

Rachel Maddow reported on a ruling by a California federal judge demanding that fired workers in many Federal Departments be immediately rehired. The following video will tell you more.

Watch Video

Federal judges order Trump to rehire thousands of fired probationary federal employees

While still in the same broadcast about the initial order to rehire, Rachel received an update to the firing status. A Maryland judge on 3/13/25 further expanded the rehire order to include almost all departments to rehire the illegally fired employees. Watch Video

The next question is “Will the Whitehouse comply?” There have already been reports of people who should have received their reinstatement call who said that it has not happened.

Stay tuned.